KING OF LOW PRICES

105 YEARS AGO.

How our people lived, acted, wrote, spoke and died 105 years ago. From the Ulster County N. Y. Gazetteer, Vol. 11, No. 88, Saturday Jan. 4th, 1800.

American Congress--Tuesday December 10th, 1799.--Upon the hour having arrived which the Vice President appointed, Mr. Speaker attended by the members present proceeded to the President's house to present him their address in answer to his speech on the opening of the present session, and having returned the President's reply there-to was read as follows:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:--This very respectful address from the Representatives of the people &c. &c.

United States, JOHN ADAMS Dec. 10, 1799. And then the House adjourned until to-morrow morning 11 o'clock. Mr. Josiah Parker and Mr. Robert Page from Virginia, appeared on Monday were qualified and took their seats.

WASHINGTON REMEMBERED.

Georgetown, Dec. 20, 1799. On Wednesday last, the mortal part of Washington the great--the father of his country and the friend of man, was consigned to the tomb, with solemn honors and funeral pomp. A multitude of persons assembled for many miles round, at Mt. Vernon, the choice abode and last resting place of the illustrious chief. There were the groves, the spacious avenues, the beautiful and sublime scenes, the noble mansion--but, alas! the august inhabitant was now no more. That great soul was gone. His mortal part was there indeed; but ah! how affecting! how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus, to mortal eyes fallen! yes! fallen! fallen. In the long and lofty portico, where oft the hero walked in all his glory, now lay the shrouded corpse. The countenance still composed and serene, seemed to depress the dignity of the spirit, which lately dwelt in that lifeless form! There those who paid the last sad honors to the benefactor of his country, took an impressive--a farewell view. On the ornament at the head of the coffin was inscribed, surge ad judicium--about the middle of the coffin, Gloria deo--and on the silver plate.

General George Washington, Departed this life, on the 14 Dec. 1799, aet. 68.

Between three and four o'clock, the sound of artillery from a vessel in the river, firing minute guns, awoke afresh our solemn sorrow--the corps was removed--a band of music with mournful melody melted the soul with all the tenderness of woe.

The procession was formed and moved in the following order: Cavalry, Infantry, Guard, Music, Clergy, with arms reversed.

The General's horse with his saddle, holsters and pistols. Pall bearers: Cols Sims, Ramsey, Payne, Gilpin, Marsteller and Little.

Mourners, Masonic Brethren, citizens. Many elaborate eulogies are also in this paper and a poem written by a young lady.

Now follows some "ads" and other miscellanies as follows:

Luther Andres & Co. have this day Been opening goods both fresh & gay He has received near every kind That you in any store can find, I with my brother man to live; But as for credit shall not give. You may find me by my sign, A few rods from the house divine.

The following articles will be received as payment: Wheat, rye, buck-wheat, oats, corn, butter, flax, ashes and raw hides. These articles will be taken in at the Esopus prices. Cash will not be refused.

Marsink, Dec. 24, 1799.

LEVEL GREEN

We are still having a great deal of rain. The hardest shower probably of the season fell Saturday evening. Most of the wheat stacked, and almost all the oats are in the shock. The largest crop of oats was raised by J. M. Broyles, who has about eleven hundred dozen. Corn looks well, the black-berry supply is scanty.

Mrs. W. F. DeBord has been very ill the past two weeks. Mrs. Elvira Thomas and daughter, Miss Nannie, have also been numbered among the sick. Robert Broughton and family, of Ottawa, were visiting his father here Sunday. Miss Mac Brown teaches again at Raspberry while her brother, W. H. Brown, will teach at Crooked creek, near Cooksburg. The school at this place will likely be taught by Prof. Buckner, of North Carolina. A movement to establish a ten months' school here, is being vigorously propagated. Dr. Monroe Pennington and his brother, James, were here last Friday. The people of our community were on last Wednesday sorrowfully shocked by the report of young James Head becoming demented. Young Mr. Head was an upright, industrious, noble boy, and his misfortune naturally bore a saddening influence upon his many friends. Near four years ago a younger brother of this young man was torn from his parents by a supposed accidental discharge from his own gun; within about one year from that time a sister, Mrs. Andrew Doan, was found at her home fatally wounded by a pistol shot. The mysterious death of Head's only brother, and the loss of one of his two sisters whose pure life was an exemplary one weighed the more heavily upon his modestly and thoughtfully disposed mind, and proved to be too much. The grief stricken parents have our sympathy. The Omnipotent one knows they deserve it.

BENT HER DOUBLE.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at Mt. Vernon Drug Co.; price 50c.

Hens today scratched up $1,000 in notes, bills and other negotiable paper which was stolen from the Prairie du Sac bank in a robbery two years ago. The papers had evidently been brought to Baraboo and hidden under the elevator in an old bill book, where they remained till unearthed and scratched into the street beside the elevator this afternoon. THE DIAMOND CURE.

The latest news from Paris, is, that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanleer, Tenn: "I had a cough, for fourteen years. Nothing helped me, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequalled quick cure for throat and lung troubles. At Mt. Vernon Drug Co.'s drugstore; price 50c and $1, guaranteed. Trial bottles free.

It is respectfully suggested, though, that henceforth United States Senators, in furnishing sketches of their careers for the Congressional Record, set forth whether they have ever been indicted for or convicted of crime, if so, how often. [New York Telegram.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child not expected to live from one hour to another, but cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy:

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "It happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle, she was well." This remedy is sold by all druggists.

Here is a Bombay student's essay upon the horse: "The horse is a very noble quadruped, but when he is angry he will not do so. He is ridden on the spinal cord by the bridle, and saddy the driver places his foot on the stirrup, and divides his lower limbs across the saddle, and drives his animal to the meadow. He has a long mouth, and his head is attached to the trunk by a long protuberance called the neck. He has four legs; two are in the front side and two are afterwards. These are the weapons on which he runs, and also defends himself by extending those in the rear in a parallel direction toward his foe, but this he does only when in a vexatious mood. His fooding is generally grasses and grains. He is also useful to take on his back a man or woman as well as some cargo. He has power to run as fast as he could. He has got to sleep at night time, and always standing awoken. Also there are horses of short sizes. They do the same as the others are generally doing. There is no animal like the horse; no sooner they see their guardian or master they always crying for fooding, but it is always at the morning time. They have got tail, but not so long as the cow and other such like similar animals."
